To Roberta Podavitte,

We provide our support as an employer within the Early Years sector, as we feel the following qualification is suitable for a young person between the ages of 16-19 years studying full time and covers the skills and knowledge needed for entry into the sector. It will give a young person an advantage when applying for jobs in the Early Years sector or when progressing onto an advanced apprenticeship.

We, Bright Horizons Family Solutions, support the inclusion of:

City & Guilds Level 2 Certificate for the Children and Young People's Workforce

for the DfE performance tables in the Substantial Vocational Qualification category.

Yours sincerely

Nicola Amies

Director of Early Years
