Qualification aim

Qualification levels and definition

Progression routes

These qualifications are for people working in or looking to enter roles in learning support.

The qualification suite is underpinned by the National Occupational Standards for Learning Support staff and supports the professionalisation of the learning support workforce.

The Award prepares the learner for supporting learning in a wide range of contexts and it is useful for those wishing to try out the role and for others who have learning support as a small part of their wider work role.

The Certificates equips the learner with the necessary skills, knowledge and competence to provide learning support. It supports learners with different needs in a range of contexts.

The Awards can provide an important stepping stone for those in learning support or related volunteer roles, wishing to progress to the certificates or to the preparing to teach qualifications.

The Certificates can allow practitioners to learn, develop and practise the skills required for employment in the learning support sector, with emphasis on a particular context. Progression opportunities include a Senior Learning Support Practitioners and other specialist roles.
