For the most up-to-date information, check the Institute for Apprenticeships and Technical Education \(IfATE\) website.

About the standard

A chef de partie is responsible for running a specific section of the kitchen. This type of chef usually manages a small team of workers, which they must keep organised so that dishes go out on time and the work area remains clean and orderly.

However, in smaller kitchens a chef de partie may work independently as the only person in their section. Also known as a station or section chef, the chef de partie reports to the senior chef and has a very important role in any kitchen.

The new standard was approved by ESFA in March 2015 and directly replaces the advanced level apprenticeship in catering and professional chefs.

On-programme: what apprentices need to learn

Apprentices need to complete 20% off-the-job training during the on-programme phase of their apprenticeship. Specific rules govern this and it must take place in the apprentice's contracted hours.

Formative assessment of knowledge, skills and behaviours required in the delivery of the Level 3 Chef de Partie apprenticeship are broken down into the following areas:

- Culinary
- Food Safety
- People
- Business.

Refer to the IfATE website for further details on the standard and assessment plan.

City & Guilds has developed teaching and learning materials to support employers and learning providers to deliver on and off-the-job learning for this standard. For more information, visit our webpage for Chef de Partie here.

Gateway requirements

Before you can book end-point assessment (EPA), the provider and employer sign off that the apprentice will be ready for EPA.

For this standard, the employer and provider will need to sign a declaration to agree the apprentice has met the relevant Chef de Partie knowledge, skills and behaviours as set out in the standard.

As part of our EPA service, City & Guilds will check all gateway evidence before the EPA event so you can have the confidence that the apprentice is ready for EPA.

The apprentice must achieve maths and English (Level 2) and will have developed a log of complex dishes and two week work schedule in preparation for the professional discussion at EPA.

EPA: how apprentices demonstrate their learning

Prior to any assessment occurring an initial meeting will take place with the apprentice, employer and IEPA where the assessment process and schedule of assessments will be discussed and agreed. This may be face to face or via conference call.

As defined in the assessment plan, the assessment events for this standard are:

Synoptic knowledge test

Two-hour (including 30-minute reading time) multiple choice test via e-volve, our platform for online testing. Graded distinction, pass or fail.

Practical observation

Four-hour practical workplace observation. Graded distinction, pass or fail. The IEPA will assess the apprentice in the workplace.

Culinary challenge

The apprentice designs a three-dish, by three-course menu, followed by a three-hour culinary challenge in a controlled environment cooking one dish from each course on the menu which will be selected by the IEPA. Graded distinction, pass or fail. The IEPA will assess the apprentice in the controlled environment.

Professional discussion

90 minutes, graded distinction, pass or fail. Face-to-face or via our online video conference platform.

City & Guilds will allocate a skilled and experienced professional to assess the apprentice objectively against the standard. All assessments are standardised and quality assured.

To help you prepare apprentices and ensure they feel ready for assessment, we have created a suite of preparation resources, including:

- EPA pack: Details behind the standard and assessment plan, guidance on EPA tasks and grading, procedures for re-sits, timelines, venue and resource requirements for EPA. It is important that you are familiar with this information
- EPA exemplar materials: Available for tutors, providing real assessment examples for each assessment type, such as transcripts and examples of good practice

- EPA preparation tool: Personalised login for each apprentice with useful learning resources relevant to the assessment skills required for their standard, ensuring they feel ready for their EPA experience
- recording forms: Supporting you to complete key stages of EPA readiness, we have prepared forms to give you peace of mind and confidence that everything is covered
- LIEPA report: A report produced by our lead independent end-point assessor (LIEPA) with insight into the EPA results for this standard and findings across all centres. These reports can help you refine your delivery to improve success rates
- our dedicated EPA customer success team will be on hand to support you through your EPA journey.

Apprenticeship certification

As well as receiving their IfATE apprenticeship certificate, the apprentice will receive a City & Guilds statement of achievement for EPA.
