Hospitality team members' should deliver excellent customer experience. Their main skills will be recognising customer needs, knowing how to match them to the products and services of the business and working as part of a team. They should ensure that every customer, whether in a restaurant, bar, hotel or a banqueting or conference setting feels welcomed and looked after. Roles include: waiter, sommelier, bar tender or mixologist.

The new standard is approved by ESFA and is a direct replacement of the Level 2 Specification of Apprenticeship Standards for England (SASE) framework.

City & Guilds – helping you with an expert solution

There are four stages where we can work together to help your apprentices from the start through to successful completion of their training.

Plan

Helping you plan and prepare for the new standards with a bespoke solution to make the most of your investment in apprentices.

Attract

Simple online vacancy and candidate set up, TalentPortal can connect you to the talent you need to fill your apprenticeship vacancies.

Deliver

High-quality, online and offline content to help draw out the skills, knowledge and behaviours to prepare apprentices for end-point assessment as well as tracking options to monitor performance.

Assess

Support for you and your apprentices to prepare for end-point assessment by our first-rate, fully trained assessors. Our simple, flexible service meets the demands of your team and your partners.

The apprentice journey

1 On-programme (deliver)

Training and development takes place during this part of the apprenticeship. It may include a qualification if set in the standard.

Formative assessment of skills, knowledge and behaviours is required in the delivery of the standard and this will be outlined in the assessment plan.

Apprentices have to reach a minimum level of maths and English set by the standard. If they've not previously achieved this, they'll need further study and support.

1 On-programme: what apprentices need to learn

On-programme is the learning phase for apprentices to pick up the skills, knowledge and behaviours set in each standard.

Apprentices need to complete 20% off-the-job training during the on-programme phase of their apprenticeship. Specific rules govern this and it must take place in the apprentice's contracted hours. You can track and authorise the 20% through our e-portfolio, Learning Assistant.

Apprentices can specialise in these areas:

- Food and beverage service
- Barista
- Food production
- Conference and events operations
- Concierge and guest services
- Housekeeping
- Reception
- Reservations
- Alcoholic beverage service (and further specialise in wine service, beer and cask ale, or cocktails and mixology).

Apprentices must evidence a strong work ethic and a willingness to learn; being respectful and punctual; showing a good grasp of health and safety; being prepared to work irregular hours and effective communication with colleagues, supervisors, visitors and clients.

Our resources and tools that support on-programme delivery

Our core content for this standard covers Prevent, British values, equality and diversity, and health and safety which give you the basics to deliver the standard and satisfy regulators. It's a blend of e-learning and downloadable content.

We also have:

Learner manual

Available in print and as part of our e-portfolio, the Hospitality Team Member learner manual takes apprentices and tutors, step by step, through tasks that develop the skills, knowledge and behaviours required. (Available late 2017)

Learning Assistant (e-portfolio)

Learning Assistant is an innovative and cost effective e-portfolio solution that allows colleges and training providers to improve dramatically the delivery of apprenticeship standards by tracking progress online in real time.

Guidance documents

- Handbooks containing the knowledge required for this occupation.
- Advice on gathering evidence for the practical standards and behaviours.

Maths and English requirements

If your apprentices need to complete maths and English, our popular Functional Skills qualifications fit within apprenticeship programmes and cover the core maths and English requirement for the workplace and further study. We have an extensive support package available, including e-Functional Skills, and an online teaching and learning platform, which guides learners from an initial and a diagnostic assessment, through to being exam ready.

2 Gateway

The employer and provider must sign off the apprentice as ready to move on to end-point assessment.

3 Assess

The end-point assessment must demonstrate that the apprentice can perform in the occupation in a fully competent, holistic and productive way.

The assessment will be graded if required by the standard.

The assessment organisation and assessor must be independent of, and separate from, the training provided by the provider and employer.

4 Apprenticeship certificate

On successful completion, the end-point assessment organisation will apply to the Education and Skills Funding Agency (ESFA) for the apprenticeship certificate. The certificate is sent to the apprentice's employer.

2 Gateway

To move on to EPA, the apprentice must evidence relevant knowledge, skills and behaviours as set out in the standard. And have maths and English (Level 1) and take the test for Level 2.

3 End-point assessment (EPA): how apprentices demonstrate their learning

End-point assessment (EPA) is the final stage that an apprentice goes through to complete their apprenticeship. The apprentice must demonstrate their learning to an independent end-point assessor and the grades available are distinction, pass or fail. There are four assessment events for this standard and the professional discussion must be the last one completed:

On-demand test

A 90-minute, on-demand, multiple-choice test, comprised of scenario-based questions.

Practical observation

A three-hour observation of the apprentice in their working environment. It will involve the apprentice covering a range of tasks. The test can be split to cover preparation and service.

Business project

This section will comprise a project looking at an idea/opportunity to make improvements to the business. It will require a research phase and will be presented to the employer and an independent assessor.

Professional discussion

A 40-minute structured meeting. The discussion will focus on the skills and knowledge gained on programme.
