1. Introduction

The Covid-19 pandemic caused significant disruption to the summer 2020 assessment series.

For the 2020/21 academic year, we recognise that the ongoing nature of this pandemic will likely cause further disruptions for learners and centres and that the observation of government guidance will prove additional challenges for the administration of assessments.

For the academic year 2020/21, centres should plan to, and wherever possible, deliver all assessments in line with the requirements set out in City & Guilds handbooks and assessment materials.

Where this is not possible City & Guilds has devised adaptation guidance. This will provide details of what adaptations can be used when delivering assessments in the way the assessment design intended is not possible due to restrictions impacting standard delivery introduced by the COVID-19 pandemic.

This guidance document sets out the flexibilities and adaptations permitted for all qualifications regulated by SQA and for our SCQF qualifications and has been designed to complement the City & Guilds Qualification assessment adaptation guidance document which can be found on City & Guilds COVID-19 webpages.

What are adaptations?

Adaptations should only apply if a learner(s) is not able to be assessed in the way the assessment design intended. The adaptations are in relation to the conditions and controls for assessments, the delivery of the assessments, or in some instances the assessment methodology. This document specifies the adaptations that are permitted and the qualifications to which they apply.

Centres are not permitted to make any further adaptation to the assessments beyond what is set out in this document.

Scope of learners

The adaptations within this document are only available to learners who meet the following criteria:

- Are undertaking their assessment in the UK
- Are scheduled to complete their qualification or assessments during the 2020/21 academic year.

2. Adaptations

Where possible centres should return to delivering assessments in line with normal assessment conditions ensuring this is done in a safe and Covid-19 secure way. However, where this is not possible, centres can use the permitted adaptations.

For some qualifications it will be the case that no adaptation is required as assessments can continue to be delivered and assessed in the usual way according to the acceptable approaches within the assessment strategy/plan.

Please refer to Appendices C and D for the lists of qualifications where no adaptation is required.

For other qualifications we have developed adaptations to be used when delivering assessments according to the acceptable approaches within the assessment strategy/plan is not possible due to restrictions. Our City & Guilds Qualification assessment adaptation guidance sets out the generic guidance for adaptations available for our qualifications.

Please refer to Appendices A and B for the lists of qualifications where adaptations are permitted.

3. Applying for Adaptation

Please note that centres must notify City & Guilds when they intend to apply an adaptation to assessments. Details on this process can be found within the City & Guilds Qualification assessment adaptation guidance.

The Centre Intention form can be found here . Centres must use this to inform City & Guilds they are having to adapt assessments.

3.1 Differences between the application of adaptations for qualifications regulated by SQA and SCQF qualifications

For some qualifications regulated by SQA, the use of Q&A or Expert Witness Testimony to support learners with the completion of unfinished assessments is permitted. Centres may also administer remote assessments and remote invigilation of e-volve tests.

SQA, the regulator, consider these adaptations as flexibilities in relation to the conditions and controls for assessments and the delivery of the assessments, rather than an adaptation to the agreed assessment methodology. Therefore, where such flexibilities are permitted for qualifications regulated by SQA the approach used for these qualifications in this guide is 'no adaptations required'.

The classification used for our SCQF qualifications is aligned with the classification used for our equivalent Ofqual regulated qualifications, as they share the same assessment strategy/plan thus a consistent approach to assessment delivery is required. For these qualifications any permitted adaptations are classed as 'adapt'.

4. External Quality Assurance

At present, all External Quality Assurance activity will be conducted remotely.

Portfolio of evidence assessing competency	All portfolio units	✓ Remote assessment only

For centre marked assignments or tasks assessing only knowledge and understanding:

These can be taken remotely by learners provided they are supervised and the centre has software or processes that maintain the security of the assessment materials, generate evidence that can be retained by the centre and authenticate that the responses are the learners own.

Mark schemes/markings guidance and grade boundaries from tests should be used to mark the assessment and determine the final grade.

Please refer to section 3 'Remote assessment and remote invigilation' of our 'Qualification assessment adaptation guidance' document available from <https://www.cityandguilds.com/covid-19>

Where remote assessment is not an option, centres can assess learners 1:1 via oral questioning.

The test content should be used as a basis for the questioning, where questions have images or tables, these can either be shared discretely from the test, an alternative equivalent image sourced or the questions can be rephrased around the image.

Oral questioning/Q&A session must be carried out by an assessor who is occupationally competent and in a way that authenticates the responses are the learners own. These will need to be recorded in written or verbal format and linked to the assessment criteria.

For e-volve tests:

Remote invigilation is available, please see the latest guidance on the Covid-19 section of the City & Guilds website for more information <https://www.cityandguilds.com/covid-19/>

Portfolio of evidence – observation

Remote assessment (live assessments where the learners are observed and assessed at the same time and not afterwards) is permitted for practical skill observations.

If assessment is undertaken remotely by video link, it must be completed in line with the remote assessment requirements set out below and those listed in section 3 'Remote assessment and invigilation' in the City & Guilds 'Qualification assessment adaptation guidance' document available on our website <https://www.cityandguilds.com/covid-19>

- Observations must be carried out in a realistic working environment unless otherwise stated
- A vocationally competent employer or a vocationally competent senior member of staff must be present during the practical skills observation, for safety and to assist the assessor, on areas of clarification or where the assessor needs to see a close-up image
- Consent must be sought and retained as evidence from clients/customers and employers
- Assessors must complete standard assessment documentation as they would face-to-face
- Live assessments do not have to be recorded but if they are, the recording must adhere to the guidance as specified in section 3 of the 'Qualification assessment adaptation guidance' document available on our website <https://www.cityandguilds.com/covid-19>

Good practice tips for centres to consider:

It is best practice that direct observations take place as per usual with the assessor present in person – this is likely to produce the most trusted form of evidence. It is important to note that in some circumstances live video streaming may not be possible or desirable and may not provide the assessor with sufficient evidence to make an assessment decision – some examples of this may be complex diagnostic tasks, tasks that involve working deep inside an engine bay or that require skills such as measurement, metalwork and paintwork, or where the assessor needs to check the work for quality and tolerances. Considerations should also be given to failures in technology and the need to promptly re-schedule assessment.

Where remote assessment is not an option, centres can assess learners 1:1 via oral questioning.

The test content should be used as a basis for the questioning, where questions have images or tables, these can either be shared discretely from the test, an alternative equivalent image sourced or the questions can be rephrased around the image.

Oral questioning/Q&A session must be carried out by an assessor who is occupationally competent and in a way that authenticates the responses are the learners own. These will need to be recorded in written or verbal format and linked to the assessment criteria.

For e-volve tests:

Remote invigilation is available, please see the latest guidance on the Covid-19 section of the City & Guilds website for more information <https://www.cityandguilds.com/covid-19/>
