Overview	Response
Your partnership with us continues unchanged	Everything you value about working with City & Guilds and ILM stays exactly the same. Your existing contacts and the team members who understand your needs remain in place. We're joining a larger organisation that brings new investment and growth opportunities, while maintaining the strong supplier relationships we've built together.
Your contracts remain secure	All your existing contracts stay valid on their current terms. Your supplier contracts will be assigned to City & Guilds Limited on their existing terms on 31 October 2025. We'll send you a formal notification of this assignment and change of control shortly after this date. You'll need to update your records to City & Guilds Limited (company number: 16513878), but there are no changes to contract terms. Our registered address remains: Giltspur House, 5-6 Giltspur Street, London, EC1A 9DE.
Your payment processes stay simple	Payment terms and invoicing continue as you know them. Payment terms and schedules remain unchanged. City & Guilds Limited will have a new bank account and will settle invoices due for payment from 1 November from this new account. Our VAT number remains the same: 788656455. Electronic invoicing and purchase order systems are not affected – please continue to use existing processes.
Your procurement experience remains consistent	Fair, transparent processes you can rely on. Our procurement policies, supplier requirements, tendering processes, and competitive bidding practices all remain the same. We continue to maintain the same quality and compliance requirements you're familiar with, and we don't anticipate any immediate review of supplier agreements. Purchasing arrangements remain as they are. Any future consolidation will be carefully managed and communicated well in advance.
Your services are still needed	We continue to require the same products and services.
