

Maths and English regular webinar updates

Mitigation update
Week 2

10 June 2020

Welcome!

This is the second of three special webinars, focusing on the current 'mitigation' arrangements for maths and English qualifications

- Not a substitute for reading and fully digesting the detailed guidance documents and FAQs on our COVID-19 microsite.
- It is an additional opportunity to clarify and demystify
  - we'll be drawing on questions raised in last week's session
  - so please listen to these first – and then post any further questions of your own when we ask.
- See our Maths and English resource hub for details of our regular maths and English updates.

Remember the six steps

Common questions – evidence

1. Do we need to submit physical evidence?
2. Must evidence be physically to-hand when we make our assessment judgements?
3. Are completed and marked sample papers sufficient evidence?
4. We only have access to evidence developed since 20 March – is this OK?
5. I have a mark book with scores from formative assessment and sample papers – is that sufficient?
6. I have no evidence – does this mean the learner has to be given a fail?

Common questions – Speaking, Listening & Communicating

1. What kind of evidence can we use for making Speaking, Listening & Communicating judgements?
2. Can 1:1 discussions be used to base judgements on?
3. I have audio and video evidence – do I need to write up the Speaking, Listening & Communicating paperwork?
4. Can we still assess SLC remotely via Zoom, Teams, Skype etc?
5. Can we use observation from work based units or other parts of the learner's course?
6. How can we evidence past activities if we didn't write them up? We have had plenty of discussions with our learners.
7. Can we carry out live assessment for SLC instead of submitting a centre assessed grade?
8. Will learners have to completed all the SLC activities or would one discussion do?

Common questions – submission process

1. Where do we find the guidance and centre declaration?
2. What is the deadline for submission?
3. The timescale is really tight can it be extended?
4. Can we submit our centre assessed grades in stages?
5. Do I submit passes and fails?
6. Learners were expected to sit some English exams/assessments in June and July but complete the rest in September – what do I do?

We're back
next week:
17 June – 16.00

Plus the next regular webinar:
24 June – 16.00
