Qualifications in Construction

South and City College Birmingham is a vocational college which offers students part time, full time and Apprenticeship courses from level 1 to higher education in a range of subjects. We provide courses and training to around 12,000 students and have ten campuses and centres across Birmingham. We are committed to ensuring students have the relevant skills, qualifications and experience required for their future, whether that is to seek employment or continue their education at college or university. We have exceptional facilities which we continue to invest in, including a purpose built construction centre, which is one of the largest in the UK.

The college is actively involved in the community, with local businesses and has excellent links with industry; this not only allows us to provide excellent opportunities for our students to gain work experience placements, Apprenticeships and job opportunities but for the college to help employers ensure they have skilled workforce needed for the future. As a leading provider of skills and training for the Construction Sector, we can confirm that we use the following qualifications provide opportunities for learners to the gain skills and knowledge required to progress into further learning in Construction trades. They also provide entry into work for some of our learners.

Entry Level and Level 1 Multi-Skills Qualifications

These qualifications are used to introduce a wide variety of learners to construction trades. They are delivered to learners as young as 14 and as old as 60. The purpose is to provide learners with an opportunity to gain an understanding of the hand-skills involved in the main trades in construction, and offer progression into further learning in a particular trade area. The nature of the Construction Sector – from DIY through to the stop-start nature of many large-scale construction projects - requires these qualifications to provide recognition of learning at a number of stages through the learners development to aid retention, and progression options to specialise in particular trades. We fully support the following qualifications being included for funding:
