17 Your client has purchased a large double fronted Georgian town house (circa 1900) in a central location of a busy town. The property is traditionally constructed with solid brick walls, slate covered timber trussed roof and single glazed box sash windows. The property was last used as offices and is in a poor state of repair. Several of the original doors have been removed, the roof has slipped with missing slates and the windows have extensive wet rot. There is no thermal insulation and there are damp issues in the rear ground floor offices. The services are old but functional, however the cold-water provision is through lead pipes.

Your client wants to convert the property back to a single dwelling which they intend to live in. The property is not listed, but is located in a conservation area. You have been asked to advise on:

- The role of a building surveyor in the refurbishment project.
- Measures needed to comply with the Building Regulations.
- Maintenance considerations once the property is refurbished.

Discuss the main considerations in respect of the client's specific request.
