2 Centre requirements

Approval

Automatic approval is available for centres offering the:

- 3978-54/4978-54 Level 5 Diploma in Leadership for Health and Social Care and Children and Young People's Services (Adults' Residential Management) (England)
- 3978-55/4978-55 Level 5 Diploma in Leadership for Health and Social Care and Children and Young People's Services (Adults' Management) (England)

To offer this qualification, new centres will need to gain both centre and qualification approval. Please refer to the Centre Manual - Supporting Customer Excellence for further information.

Centre staff should familiarise themselves with the structure, content and assessment requirements of the qualifications before designing a course programme.

Resource requirements

Centre staffing

This section outlines the approval processes for centres to offer this qualification and any resources that centres will need in place to offer the qualifications including qualification-specific requirements for centre staff.

Existing City & Guilds Centres not currently offering qualifications in this area will need to obtain qualification approval.

Human resources

To meet the quality assurance criteria for these qualifications, the centre must ensure that the following internal roles are undertaken:

- Quality Assurance Coordinator
- Trainer/Tutor
- Assessor (occupationally competent and occupationally knowledgeable)
- Internal Quality Assurer (IQA).

Centre staff may undertake more than one role, eg tutor and assessor or an Internal Quality Assurer, but must never internally quality assure their own assessments.

Continuing professional development

Centres are expected to support their staff in ensuring that their knowledge remains current of the occupational area and of best practice in delivery, mentoring, training, assessment and verification, and that it takes account of any national or legislative developments.

Assessor requirements

The Assessors of competence based units must:

- be occupationally competent - this means that each assessor must be able to carry out the full requirements within the competency units that they are assessing. Occupational competence means that they are also occupationally knowledgeable
- maintain their occupational competence through clearly demonstrable continuing learning and professional development
- hold D32/33 or A1 or be working towards A1 or be working towards the A1 replacements, eg the City & Guilds 6317 such as:
 - the Level 3 Award in Assessing Competence in the Work Environment or
 - the Level 3 Certificate in Assessing Vocational Achievement or
 - another suitable qualification equivalent/alternative in the assessment of work based performance. This must be agreed in advance with the centre's Qualification Consultant.

Assessors of competence based units may also make assessment decisions on knowledge based units and learning outcomes.

Assessors of knowledge based units and knowledge based learning outcomes must:

- be occupationally knowledgeable. This means that each assessor should possess relevant knowledge and understanding to assess units designed to test specific knowledge and understanding or units where knowledge and understanding are components of competency.
- maintain their occupational knowledge through clearly demonstrable continuing learning and professional development
- hold D32/D33 or A1 or be working towards one of the following:
 - the A1 replacement qualifications i.e. the City & Guilds 6317 such as
 - Level 3 Award in Assessing Vocational Competence or
 - Level 3 Award in Assessing Vocationally Related Achievement or
 - Level 3 Certificate in Assessing Vocational Achievement or
 - another suitable qualification in the assessment of knowledge. This must be agreed in advance with the QA.

Internal quality assurers

Internal quality assurance is key to ensuring that the assessment of evidence for units is of a consistent and appropriate quality. Those performing the internal quality assurance role must be occupationally knowledgeable and possess the skills necessary to make quality assurance decisions.

Although it is not a requirement to hold a qualification to quality assure this qualification, City & Guilds recommends that it is best practice to hold an internal verification qualification.

These include:

- D34 or V1
- the V1 replacements eg the City & Guilds 6317 such as the:
 - Level 4 Award in the Internal Quality Assurance of Assessment Processes and Practice OR
 - Level 4 Certificate in Leading the Internal Quality Assurance of Assessment Processes and Practice.

If the internal quality assurer does not hold a qualification they must be able to demonstrate evidence of working to their own organisation's QA or IV standards which clearly link to V1 or other equivalent standards for Internal Quality Assurance

Assessment decisions

Assessment decisions for criteria that must be assessed in the workplace, as identified in unit assessment requirements, must be made in a real work environment by an occupationally competent assessor.

Competence based assessment must include direct observation as the main source of evidence.

Simulation may only be utilised as an assessment method for competence based assessment criteria where this is specified in the assessment requirements of the unit.

Assessment of knowledge based Learning Outcomes (eg those beginning with 'know' or 'understand') may take place in or outside of a real work environment.

Learner entry requirements

City & Guilds does not set entry requirements for these qualifications. However, centres must ensure that learners have the potential and opportunity to gain the qualifications successfully.

Age restrictions

The City & Guilds Level 4 Diploma in Adult Care (England) is not approved for learners under 18 years of age. City & Guilds cannot accept any registrations for learners below this age group.

Other legal considerations

Learners working within care services may be legally required to undergo criminal record checks prior to taking up or continuing in employment. Centres and employers will need to liaise closely with one another to ensure that any requirements for the particular area of work are fully met. As the requirements vary between work contexts, checks should be made with the appropriate regulatory body and/or government departments if centres or employers are uncertain of these requirements. These are usually the responsibility of the employer. The appropriate service regulator identifies any 'fit person' criteria, not the Awarding Body.

Centres are advised that fit persons criteria and work function job specification limitations may impact the learner/learner's ability to generate sufficient and appropriate evidence that meets the learning outcome and assessment criteria in some of the units within this qualification. The completion of a robust initial assessment should aim to highlight any possible issues that will impact on the learner's ability to complete a full qualification.

3 Delivering the qualification

Initial assessment and induction

An initial assessment of each learner should be made before the start of their programme to identify:

- if the learner has any specific training or learning needs
- support and guidance they may need when working towards their qualification
- any units they have already completed, or credit they have accumulated which is relevant to the qualification and may be used as part of the RPL process
- the appropriate type and level of qualification.

We recommend that centres provide an induction programme so the learner fully understands the requirements of the qualifications, their responsibilities as a learner, and the responsibilities of the centre. This information can be recorded on a learning contract, a personalised learning plan or a similar document. The following resources are available for these qualifications:

Description	How to access
Fast track approval form	www.cityandguilds.com
Assignments	www.cityandguilds.com

Recording documents

Learners and centres may decide to use a paper-based or electronic method of recording evidence.

City & Guilds endorses several ePortfolio systems, including our own, Learning Assistant, an easy-to-use and secure online tool to support and evidence learners' progress towards achieving qualifications. Further details are available at: www.cityandguilds.com/eportfolios.

City & Guilds has developed a set of recording forms including examples of completed forms, for new and existing centres to use as appropriate. Recording forms are available on the qualification webpage.

Although new centres are expected to use these forms, centres may devise or customise alternative forms, which must be approved for use by the external verifier, before they are used by candidates and assessors at the centre. Amendable (MS Word) versions of the forms are available on the City & Guilds website.

4 Assessment

Summary of assessment methods

The units in this qualification are assessed with the portfolio of evidence.

Learners may choose to undertake the following units in two ways:

- portfolio of evidence, using diverse range of assessment methods
- externally set and internally quality assured assignments.

Assessment Types
Unit	Title	Where to obtain assessment materials
378	Understand how to support individuals with autistic spectrum conditions	www.cityandguilds.com
393	Understand sensory loss	www.cityandguilds.com
402	Understand theories of relationships and social networks	www.cityandguilds.com

Time constraints

The following must be applied to the assessment of this qualification:

- Centre staff should guide learners to ensure excessive evidence gathering is avoided. Centres finding that assignments are taking longer, should contact their External Quality Assurer for guidance.
- All assignments/tasks must be completed and assessed within the learner's period of registration. Centres should advise learners of any internal timescales for the completion and marking of individual assignments.

Assessment strategy

Assessment principles

All units must be assessed in line with the Skills for Care and Development's QCF Assessment Principles. Assessment decisions for competence based learning outcomes (eg those beginning with 'to be able to') must be made by an occupationally competent assessor (please see individual units for specific requirements around the real work environment). Any knowledge evidence integral to these learning outcomes may be generated outside of the work environment but the final assessment decision must be within the real work environment.

Assessment decisions for competence based learning outcomes must be made by an assessor qualified to make assessment decisions. Competence based assessment must include direct observation as the main source of evidence.

Expert witnesses can be used for direct observation where they have occupational expertise for specialist areas or the observation is of a particularly sensitive nature. The use of expert witnesses should be determined and agreed by the assessor.

Assessment of knowledge based learning outcomes (eg those beginning with 'know' or 'understand') may take place in or outside of a real work environment.

Assessment decisions for knowledge based learning outcomes must be made by an occupationally knowledgeable assessor.

Assessment decisions for knowledge based learning outcomes must be made by an assessor qualified to make assessment decisions. Where assessment is electronic or undertaken according to a set grid, the assessment decisions are made by the person who has set the answers.

Definitions

Occupationally competent:

This means that each assessor must be capable of carrying out the full requirements within the competency units they are assessing. Being occupationally competent means they are also occupationally knowledgeable. This occupational competence should be maintained annually through clearly demonstrable continuing learning and professional development.

Occupationally knowledgeable:

This means that each assessor should possess relevant knowledge and understanding, and be able to assess this in units designed to test specific knowledge and understanding, or in units where knowledge and understanding are components of competency. This occupational knowledge should be maintained annually through clearly demonstrable continuing learning and professional development.

Qualified to make assessment decisions:

This means that each assessor must hold a qualification suitable to support the making of appropriate and consistent assessment decisions. Awarding Organisations will determine what will qualify those making assessment decisions according to the unit of competence under assessment. In any case of significant uncertainty the SSCs will be consulted.

Expert witness:

Evidence from expert witnesses must meet the tests of validity, reliability and authenticity. Expert witnesses will need to demonstrate that they:

- have a working knowledge of the units on which their expertise is based
- are occupationally competent in their area of expertise
- have either any qualification in assessment of workplace performance OR a professional work role which involves evaluating the everyday practice of staff
- have current or recent (within the last 2 years) experience of working at or above the level for which they are attesting competence
- can demonstrate appropriate, continuous professional development relevant to the sector for which they are attesting competence
- have no conflict of interest in the outcome of the evidence.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Range

Environmental risk factors will include features that are physical or social, such as:

- uncomfortable levels of stimulation (eg too busy, boring)
- institutional-style setting (eg block treatment, rigid routines)
- poor service organisation (eg inexperienced carers)
- inappropriate social environment (eg overly restrictive, limited choice)
- environmental pollutants (eg temperature, noise levels).

Triggers are factors that make challenging behaviours more likely to occur. They include:

- Slow triggers, which are aspects of a person's environment or daily routines that do not necessarily happen immediately before the challenging behaviours, but still affect whether these behaviours are performed.
- Fast triggers, which are specific events that occur immediately prior to the behaviour. Their impact upon behaviour is rapid or immediate.

Reinforcement strengthens behaviour and is of two types – positive and negative. Positive reinforcement works because individuals gain access to things or events that they like or want while negative reinforcement works because individuals get rid of things that they don't like.

Time intensity model

The stages of increasing agitation to crisis point and back again. This helps to understand the emotional and physiological changes experienced during a severe episode of challenging behaviour.

Secondary prevention

Strategies that apply when a person's challenging behaviour begins to escalate, in order to prevent a major incident.

Non-aversive reactive strategies are ways of responding safely and efficiently to challenging behaviours that have not been prevented. They can include physical interventions that do not cause pain and do minimise discomfort, and comply with the British Institute of Learning Disabilities (BILD) code of practice for the use of physical interventions.

Social validity refers to interventions that are ethical. That is, they address socially significant problems, have clear benefits for the individual, are acceptable to the individual and others, and use the least restrictive or intrusive approach.

Autistic spectrum: The terminology chosen to describe the Autistic Spectrum in this unit is Autistic Spectrum Condition (ASC), one of several different usages in this field. In diagnosis and other clinical and research settings, the more usual term is Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASDs). Other usages, such as 'autism' as an umbrella term for the spectrum, are also frequently used informally and by organisations such as the National Autistic Society. ASC has been chosen here since it forms a more neutral and less medical phrase than ASDs in this context.
