Synoptic Assignment 2019 – v1.0
General guidance for candidates

General guidance
This is a formal assessment that you will be marked and graded on. You will be marked on the quality and accuracy of your practical performance and the written work you produce. It is therefore important that you carry your work out to the highest standard you can. How well you know and understand the subject, and how you have used your knowledge and skills together to complete the tasks must be clear to the marker. This means you will have to explain your thinking and the reasons behind the way you have carried out the tasks and how/why you have made your decisions within your written work eg as part of your planning, reflections, or evaluations.

Plagiarism
This is an assessment of your abilities, so the work must be all your own work and carried out under the conditions stated. You will be asked to sign a declaration that you have not had any help with the assessment.

Your tutor is allowed to give you some help understanding the assignment instructions if necessary, but they will record any other guidance you need and this will be taken into account during marking.

Plagiarism is the failure to acknowledge sources properly and/or the submission of another person’s work as if it were your own. Plagiarism is not allowed in this assignment.

Where research is allowed, your tutor must be able to identify which work you have done yourself, and what you have found from other sources. It is therefore important to make sure you acknowledge all sources and clearly reference any information taken from them.

Timings and planning
Where you have to plan your time, you should take care to make sure you have divided the time available between tasks appropriately. In some assignments, there are specified timings which cannot be changed and which need to be taken into account. You should check your plan is appropriate with your tutor.

If you have a good reason for needing more time, you will need to explain the reasons to your tutor and agree a new deadline date. Changes to dates will be at the discretion of the tutor, and they may not mark work that is handed in after the agreed deadlines.

Health and safety
You must always work safely, in particular while you are carrying out practical tasks.

You must always follow any relevant Health and Safety regulations and codes of practice.

If your tutor sees you working in a way that is unsafe for yourself or others, they will ask you to stop immediately, and tell you why. Your tutor will not be able to continue the assessment until they are sure you are ready for assessment and can work safely.

Presentation of work
Presentation of work must be neat, legible and appropriate to the task.

You should make sure that each piece of evidence including any forms are clearly labelled with your name and the assignment reference.
All electronic files must be given a clear file name that allows your tutor to identify it as your work.

Written work e.g. reports may be word processed or hand written unless stated otherwise. All sketches and drawings should be neat and tidy, to scale and annotated.

Calculations should be set out clearly, with all working shown, as well as any assumptions made. You should use appropriate units at all times, and answers must be expressed to a degree of accuracy, consistent with the requirements of the task.
Assignment Brief

The European Association of Chefs are looking to hold their annual conference in the UK for the first time in 10 years. The theme of the conference is “Modern Trends”.

The Head Chef has shared the outline of their requests below. You will need to produce two portions of each dish as the committee of the association would like to taste the menu before the event takes place.

- A paté with an appropriate garnish and relish
- A vegetable soufflé
- A flat fish dish with appropriate sauce and garnish
- A dish consisting of two duck elements (using different preparation and cooking methods) served with an appropriate starch choice and seasonal vegetables and sauce
- A plated selection of desserts using one kind of fruit

In addition to the outline above, you must produce either a starter or dessert based on a classic Escoffier dish with a modern twist. This dish must reflect current trends in gastronomy and needs to be positioned at an appropriate point in the menu.
Tasks

Task 1

Plan the production of dishes/products to include:

- a recipe specification for the dishes
- a menu
- a health and safety risk assessment
- a food safety risk assessment
- an allergen chart
- a food order for the commodities required
- a time plan for Task 2
- justification for your modern twist on a classical dish

What you must produce for marking:
- Task 1 paperwork that includes all of the above bullet points

Conditions of assessment:
- You may carry out research and collect the information you want to use under unsupervised conditions.
- You may take into the assessment your recipes and pro-formas
- You must carry out Task 1 on your own, under supervised conditions.
- Both you and your tutor must sign declarations that the evidence produced has been your own, the tutor can only give such assurances if appropriate conditions have been followed.

Additional evidence of your performance that must be captured for marking:
- None for this task.

Task 2

Produce the products as outlined in the brief.

Conditions of assessment:
- You must carry out the preparation and cooking on your own, under supervised conditions.
- You may use the appropriate documents produced in Task 1 in your execution of this task.

What you must produce for marking:
- Finished products in sequential order.

Additional evidence of your performance that must be captured for marking:
- Your tutor's notes on your performance, which will record your working practice, the standard and accuracy of the finished work.
• Photographic evidence as detailed below.

Task 3

Complete an evaluation of your performance.

Conditions of assessment:
• The evaluation must be carried out independently under supervised conditions.

What you must produce for marking:
• Completed evaluation (approximately 500 words).

Additional evidence of your performance that must be captured for marking:
• None for this task.
Task instructions for centres

Resources

Candidates must have access to a suitable range of resources to carry out the tasks and, where appropriate, to have the opportunity to choose materials demonstrating the ability to select from a range of appropriate materials. Resources specific to this task are as follows:

- candidates may require access to IT and library facilities
- candidates may use recipe specifications that have been previously provided by the centre during teaching and learning
- recipe specifications must be submitted to the assessor for approval before candidates can begin the timed element of Task 1. This is to ensure that the chosen recipes are within the centre’s budget and/or sourcing capabilities. Assessors’ feedback on recipe specifications should point out any issues with the proposed dishes, but should not provide solutions to these issues. Any feedback should be noted in the assessors’ marking notes. Please see the Guidance and feedback section below for further details
- candidates will need to complete an allergen chart, such as the one provided towards the end of this pack
- Centre pro-formas can be used, but they must be completed by the candidate to take into account their specific choice of methods, techniques, and completed dishes. Where pro-formas are used, centres should ensure that they do not limit the candidate’s ability to demonstrate knowledge and understanding
- candidates will require materials, equipment and ingredients to produce the dishes as outlined on their approved recipe specifications.

Task specific guidance

- The assignment brief should be released two academic weeks before Task 1 to give candidates time to complete research activities.

Task 1

- Task 1 should be completed no more than three academic weeks before Task 2
- The recommended time allocated to Task 1 does not include the research activity.
- Candidates may take into the assessment their recipes and pro-formas.

Task 2

- Task 2 can be split over two sessions, please note the following:
  - How the time is split between preparation and cooking is at the discretion of the centre.
  - Under no circumstances should dishes be presented at the end of the first session.
  - All dishes must be presented during the second session.
  - All dishes do not need to be presented together but must be presented in sequential order.
o Any food prepared in session one must be kept securely and clearly labelled with the candidate’s ID.
o The 30 minutes set-up time must be split across the two sessions i.e. 15 minutes in each session.
o If centres split the sessions, this should be applied to every candidate on this qualification.
o The same tutor must attend both sessions where possible
o No feedback should be provided to candidates between the first and second session.

• Candidates must cook the food they prepare themselves.

Dish Specific Guidance

• A paté with an appropriate garnish and relish
  o The choice of paté is up to the candidate.

• A vegetable soufflé
  o The choice of vegetable is up to the candidate and should be served hot.

• A flat fish dish with appropriate sauce and garnish
  o The fish needs to be filleted by the candidate.
o The method of cookery is up to the candidate but must be served with a sauce and garnish.

• A dish consisting of two duck elements (using different preparation and cooking methods) served with an appropriate starch choice and seasonal vegetables and sauce
  o The candidate needs to prepare the breast for one element and the leg for the second element from a whole duck.
o Centres should not buy pre-portioned duck.
o This needs to be two different cooking methods.

• A plated selection of desserts using one kind of fruit
  o Consisting of 3 different/contrasting desserts using one kind of fruit.
o The choice of fruit is up to the candidate.

• A starter or dessert based on a classic Escoffier dish with a modern twist. This dish must reflect current trends in gastronomy and needs to be positioned at an appropriate point in the menu.
  o Candidates need to produce a classic dish using current trends.
o The dish can be hot or cold/sweet or savoury
  o When the candidate serves this dish, the candidate will need to explain why they have produced the dish.

• A copy of the menu needs to be available at the service point.
• The justification for the classical dish with a modern twist needs to be available at the service point.
• The portion sizes for each dish should be appropriate.
• Candidates must submit everything for marking at the end of eight hours, even if dishes are not completed. Candidates must not continue to finish these dishes once the eight hours elapse.
• Candidates may also have someone to wash dishes for them. Please note that this does not include cleaning/clearing work stations. Candidates are responsible for managing their own workstations.

Task 3

• The candidate’s self-evaluation of performance across Tasks 1 and 2 must be completed no more than one week after completion of the practical assessment.
• It is recommended that candidates reflect on their performance until at least the following day before completing their evaluation.

Taking and uploading photographic evidence for Task 2

Photographs are an important aspect of the evidence, but they should be kept to a minimum. Photographs must not be used to replace marker’s notes. The following is required:
• a photograph of each completed dish
• a photograph of completed dishes together
• a photograph of the candidate in their chef’s whites upon completion of the task.

Photographs must:
• be in colour
• be of a suitable size (a maximum of two shots per one A4 page)
• be taken in appropriate lighting with a clear focus to ensure the dish can be seen
• include candidate’s ID.

Time

The recommended time allocated for the completion of the tasks and production of evidence for this assessment is twelve hours. It is the centre’s responsibility to arrange how this time is managed to fit with timetables during the assessment period. This may allow for some candidates to complete tasks at varying times.

• Task 1: approximately three hours will be required for the completion of this task (this could be split into two periods to allow for a break, but materials must not be taken away by the candidates).
• Task 2: the maximum time permitted for this task is eight hours. This could be split into two periods, the first to be used for preparation (mise-en-place), the second for finishing and presentation of the dishes. This does not include a maximum of 30 minutes setting up time, which can also be split if undertaking the assessment in two sessions*
• Task 3: approximately one hour will be required for the completion of this task.

* This time is intended to allow candidates to collect their tools and equipment, collect and weigh out any ingredients and organise their workspace. They are not permitted to begin any preparation or cooking.
Centre guidance

Guidance provided in this document supports the administration of this assignment. The following documents available on the City & Guilds website provide essential generic guidance for centres delivering Technical qualifications and must be referred to alongside this guidance:

- Technical qualifications – marking
- Technical qualifications – moderation (updated annually)
- Technical qualifications – teaching, learning and assessment

This synoptic assessment is designed to require the candidate to make use their knowledge, understanding and skills they have built up over the course of their learning to tackle problems/tasks/challenges.

This approach to assessment emphasises to candidates the importance and applicability of the full range of their learning to practice in their industry area, and supports them in learning to take responsibility for transferring their knowledge, understanding and skills to the practical situation, fostering independence, autonomy and confidence.

Candidates are provided with an assignment brief. They then have to draw on their knowledge and skills and independently select the correct processes, skills, materials, and approaches to take to provide the evidence specified by the brief.

During the learning programme, it is expected that tutors will have taken the opportunity to set shorter, formative tasks that allow candidates to be supported to independently use the learning they have so far covered, drawing this together in a similar way, so they are familiar with the format, conditions and expectations of the synoptic assessment.

Candidates should be made aware during learning what the Assessment Objectives are and how they are implemented in marking the assignment, so they will understand the level of performance that will achieve them high marks.

Candidates should not be entered for the assessment until the end of the course of learning for the qualification so they are in a position to complete the assignment successfully.

Health and safety

Candidates should not be entered for assessment without being clear of the importance of working safely, and practice of doing so. The tutor must immediately stop an assessment if a candidate works unsafely. At the discretion of the tutor, depending on the severity of the incident, the candidate may be given a warning. If they continue to work unsafely however, their assessment must be ended and they must retake the assessment at a later date.

Compliance with timings

The timings provided are estimates to support centre planning. They refer to assessment time, not any additional setting up the centre needs to carry out to create an appropriate assessment environment.

It is the centre’s responsibility to plan sufficient assessment sessions, under the appropriate conditions, within the assignment window, to allow candidates reasonable time to complete the assessment tasks.

Where candidates are required to plan their work they should have their plans confirmed for appropriateness in relation to the time allocated for each task.
Candidates should be allowed sufficient time to fully demonstrate the range of their skills, however this also needs to be reasonable and practicable. Candidates should be allowed to overrun their planned timings or professional service times (where they exist) in order for evidence of a range of their skills to be captured. If however, the time required exceeds reasonably set assessment periods, or the tolerance suggested for professional service times, the centre may stop the assessment and base the marking on the evidence up to that point, including the tutor’s notes of how far over time the task has taken.

Observation evidence

Where the tutor is required to carry out observation of performance, detailed, descriptive notes must be recorded on the practical observation (PO) form provided. The centre has the flexibility to adapt the form, to suit local requirements (eg to use tablet, hand-written formats, or to ease local administration) as long as this does not change or restrict the type of evidence collected.

The number of candidates a tutor will be able to observe at one time will vary depending on:

- the complexity of evidence collection for the task
- local conditions eg layout of the assessment environment
- amount of additional support available (e.g. to capture image/ video evidence), staggered starts etc,
- whether there are any peak times where there is a lot of evidence to collect that will need additional support or any that are quiet.

It is advisable to trial the planned arrangements where possible during formative assessment, reviewing the quality of evidence captured and manageability. It is expected that for straightforward observations, (unless otherwise specified) no more than eight candidates will be observed by a single tutor at one time, and the number will usually be fewer than this maximum. The key factor to consider is the logistics of collecting sufficient evidence.

As far as possible, candidates should not be distracted, or their performance affected by the process of observation and evidence collection.

Observation notes form part of the candidate’s evidence and must describe how well the activity has been carried out, rather than stating the steps/actions the candidate has taken. The notes must be very descriptive and focus on the quality of the performance in such a way that comparisons between performances can be made. They must provide sufficient, appropriate evidence that can be used by the marker (and moderator) to mark the performance using the marking grid.

Identifying what it is about the performances that is different between candidates can clarify the qualities that are important to record. Each candidate is likely to carry out the same steps, so a checklist of this information would not help differentiate between them. However qualitative comments on how well they do it, and quantitative records of accuracy and tolerances would.

The tutor should refer to the marking grid to ensure appropriate aspects of performance are recorded. These notes will be used for marking and moderation purposes and so must be detailed, accurate and differentiating.

Tutors should ensure that any required additional supporting evidence e.g. photographs or video, can be easily matched to the correct candidate, are clear, well-lit and showing the areas of particular interest in sufficient detail and clarity for assessment (ie taken at appropriate points in production, showing accuracy of measurements where appropriate).

If candidates are required to work as a team, each candidate’s contribution must be noted separately. The tutor may intervene if any individual candidate’s contribution is unclear or to ensure fair access (see below).

The Technical qualifications guides on marking and moderation are essential guidance documents and are available on the City & Guilds website. These provide further information on preparing for assessment, evidence gathering, standardisation, marking and moderation and must be referred to when planning and carrying out assessment.

Minimum evidence requirements for marking and moderation
The sections in the assignment:

- What you must produce for marking, and
- Additional evidence of your performance that must be captured for marking list the minimum requirements of evidence to be submitted for marking and the moderation sample.

Evidence produced during assessment above and beyond this may be submitted, as long as it provides useful information for marking and moderation and has been produced under appropriate conditions.

While technological methods which support the capturing or creating of evidence can be helpful, eg pinboard style websites for creating mood boards, the final evidence must be converted to a suitable format for marking and moderation which cannot be lost/ deleted or amended after the end of the assessment period (eg screen prints, pdf files). Considerations around tracking authenticity and potential loss of material hosted on such platforms during assessment is the centre’s responsibility.

Where candidates have carried out some work as a group, the contribution of each candidate must be clear. It is not appropriate to submit identical information for each candidate without some way for the marker and moderator to mark the candidates individually.

Note: Combining candidates’ individual pieces of evidence into single files or zip files may make evidence management during internal marking more efficient and will greatly simplify the uploading of the moderation sample.

Where the minimum requirements have not been submitted for the moderation sample by the final moderation deadline, or the quality of evidence is insufficient to make a judgement, the moderation, and therefore any subsequent adjustment, will be based on the evidence that has been submitted. Where this is insufficient to provide a mark on moderation, a mark of zero may be given.

Preparation of candidates
Candidates should be aware of which aspects of their performance (across the AOs) will give them good marks in assessment. This is best carried out through routinely pointing out good or poor performance during the learning period, and through formative assessment.

During the learning programme, direct tutor instruction on how to tackle practical tasks through modelling, support, guidance and feedback are critical. However gradual removal of this support is necessary in preparation for summative assessment. This, supported approach is not valid for summative assessment.
The purpose of summative assessment is to confirm the standard the candidate has reached as a result of participating in the learning process. Candidates should be encouraged to do the best they can and be made aware of the difference between these summative assessments and any formative assessments they have been subject to. Candidates may not have access to the full marking grids, as these may be misinterpreted as pass, merit distinction descriptors. Refer to the Technical qualifications – teaching, learning and assessment centre guidance document, available on the City & Guilds website for further information on preparing candidates for Technical qualification assessment.

Guidance on assessment conditions
The assessment conditions that are in place for this synoptic assignment are to:

- ensure the rigour of the assessment process
- provide fairness for candidates
- give confidence in the outcome.

They can be thought of as the rules that ensure that all candidates who take an assessment are being treated fairly, equally and in a manner that ensures their result reflects their true ability.

The conditions outlined below relate to this summative synoptic assignment. These do not affect any formative assessment work that takes place, although it is advised that candidates are prepared for the conditions they will need to work under during summative assessment.

The evidence for the tasks that make up this synoptic assignment must be completed under the specified conditions. This is to ensure authenticity and prevent malpractice as well as to assess and record candidate performance for assessment in the practical tasks. Any aspect that may be undertaken in unsupervised conditions is specified. It is the centre’s responsibility to ensure that local administration and oversight gives the tutor sufficient confidence to be able to confirm the authenticity of the candidate’s work.

Security and authentication of candidate work
Candidate evidence must be kept secure to prevent unsupervised access by the candidate or others. Where evidence is produced over a number of sessions, the tutor must ensure learners and others cannot access the evidence without supervision. This might include storing written work or artefacts in locked cupboards and collecting memory sticks of evidence produced electronically at the end of each session.

Candidates are required to sign declarations of authenticity, as is the tutor. The relevant form is included in this assignment pack and must be signed after the production of all evidence.

Where the candidate or tutor is unable to, or does not confirm authenticity through signing the declaration form, the work will not be accepted at moderation and a mark of zero will be given. If any question of authenticity arises eg at moderation, the centre may be contacted for justification of authentication.
Accessibility and fairness

Where a candidate has special requirements, tutors should refer to the Access arrangements and reasonable adjustments section of the City & Guilds website. Tutors can support access where necessary by providing clarification to any candidate on the requirements or timings of any aspect of this synoptic assignment. Tutors should not provide more guidance than the candidate needs as this may impact on the candidate’s grade, see the guidance and feedback section below.

All candidates must be provided with an environment, time frame and resources that allows them reasonable access to the full range of marks available.

Where candidates have worked in groups to complete one or more tasks for this synoptic assessment, the tutor must ensure that no candidate is disadvantaged as a result of the performance of any other team member. If a team member is distracting or preventing another team member from fully demonstrating their skills or knowledge, the tutor must intervene.

Guidance and feedback

To support centre file management, tutors may specify a suitable file format and referencing format for evidence (unless otherwise specified eg if file naming is an assessment point for the assignment). Guidance must only support access to the assignment and must not provide feedback for improvement. The level and frequency of clarification & guidance must be

- recorded fully on the candidate record form (CRF)
- taken into account along with the candidate’s final evidence during marking
- made available for moderation.

Tutors must not provide feedback on the quality of the performance or how the quality of evidence can be improved. This would be classed as malpractice.

Tutors should however provide general reminders to candidates throughout the assessment period to check their work thoroughly before submitting it, and to be sure that they are happy with their final evidence as it may not be worked on further after submission.

Candidates can rework any evidence that has been produced for this synoptic assignment during the time allowed. However, this must be as a result of their own review and identification of weaknesses and not as a result of tutor feedback. Once the evidence has been submitted for assessment, no further amendments to evidence can be made.

Tutors should monitor and be aware of the candidates’ plans and designs to ensure management of time and resources is appropriate, and so any allowed intervention can take place at an appropriate time.

Tutors should ensure that candidates’ plans for completion of the tasks distribute the time available appropriately and may guide candidates on where they should be up to at any point in a general way. Any excessive time taken for any task should be recorded and should be taken into account during marking if appropriate.

It is up to the marker to decide if the guidance the candidate has required suggests they are lacking in any AO, the severity of the issue, and how to award marks on the basis of this full range of evidence. The marker must record where and how guidance has had an impact on the marks given, so this is available should queries arise at moderation or appeal.
What is, and is not, an appropriate level of guidance

- A tutor should intervene with caution if a candidate has taken a course of action that will result in them not being able to submit the full range of evidence for assessment. However, this should only take place once the tutor has prompted the candidate to check that they have covered all the requirements. Where the tutor has to be explicit as to what the issue is, this is likely to demonstrate a lack of understanding on the part of the candidate rather than a simple error, and full details should be recorded on the CRF.

- The tutor should not provide guidance if the candidate is thought to be able to correct the issue without it, and a prompt would suffice. In other words, only the minimum support the candidate actually needs should be given, since the more tutor guidance provided, the less of the candidate’s own performance is being demonstrated and therefore the larger the impact on the marks awarded.

- A tutor must not provide guidance that the candidate’s work is not at the required standard or how to improve their work. In this way, candidates are given the chance to identify and correct any errors on their own, providing valid evidence of knowledge and skills that will be credited during marking.

- The tutor must not produce any templates, pro-formas, work logs etc unless instructed to in the assignment guidance. Where instructed to do so, these materials must be produced as specified and contain no additional guidance. Templates provided as part of the assignment should be used as provided, and not adapted.

All specific prompts and details of the nature of any further guidance must be recorded on the relevant form and reviewed during marking and moderation.

Guidance on marking

Please refer to the Technical qualifications – marking, and - moderation centre guidance documents for further information on gathering evidence suitable for marking and moderation, and on using the marking grid and forms.

The candidate record form (CRF) is used to record:
- Details of any guidance or the level of prompting the candidate has received during the assessment period
- Rough notes bringing together relevant evidence from across tasks during marking.
- Summary justifications when holistically coming to an overall judgement of the mark.

The practical observation form (PO) is used to record:
- Descriptive information and evidence of candidate performance during an observation. Although descriptions of the quality of performance should support decisions against the AOs, the notes should follow the flow of the observation, rather than attempting to assign evidence against the AOs at this point.
Marking grid

For any category, 0 marks may be awarded where there is no evidence of achievement.

Examples of understanding expected: applying food safety working practices, hazards, risks and control measures in a risk assessment, suitability of sauces and finishes for dishes and desserts, sequencing of working practices in a professional kitchen, selection of tools and equipment, quality points, how quality points affect cooking methods, complementary flavours and colour combinations, gastronomy (people, sources of commodities, influences), evaluation.

Candidate has shown a basic understanding of professional concepts and theories from across the qualification, with some insecurity in some areas. Examples provided cover a limited range. Some points are covered in detail but consideration of wider factors are limited.

Candidate has shown a broad range of understanding of professional cookery concepts and theories, making links between theory and practice. Explanations are usually well-reasoned. There are some inconsistencies in the level of understanding.

Candidate has shown an in-depth understanding of professional cookery concepts and theories across the whole qualification range, showing a high degree of confidence and accuracy. Explanations are clear and strong links have been made between theory and practice. Concepts and understanding are applied consistently and effectively.

<td>Some evidence of consideration of theory when attempting tasks. Tends to attend to single aspects at a time without considering implication of contextual information. Some random trial and error, new situations are challenging, expects guidance, narrow. May need prompting.</td>
<td>Shows good application of theory to practice and new context, some inconsistencies. Remembers to apply theory, somewhat successful at achieving fitness for purpose. Some consolidation of theory and practice.</td>
<td>Strong evidence of thorough consideration of the context and use of theory and skills to achieve fitness for purpose. Purposeful experimentation, plausible ideas, guided by theory and experience, fit for purpose, integrated, uses whole toolkit of theory and skills.</td>
