City & Guilds

601/3142/1 Level 3 Diploma in Advanced Professional Cookery

OVERVIEW

Who is this qualification aimed at?

This qualification is aimed at you if you, if you are looking to further your learning to become an all rounded professional chef. You might have progressed from achieving the level 2 qualification but this is not necessary.

What does this qualification cover?

You will gain knowledge and advanced skills required to become a professional chef. At level 3 you are likely to undertake topics around gastronomy, advanced skills and techniques in producing dishes, using your supervisory skills and producing pastry products. You will further your learning by undertaking practical tasks in the kitchen covering preparation activities such as preparing and cooking 3 course meals for example, for lunch or dinner as well as events.

Centres and providers work with local employers who will contribute to the knowledge and delivery of training. Employers will provide demonstrations and talks on the industry. You will also be given the opportunity to visit restaurants of all types from gastro pubs to Michelin star establishments. Where possible work placements will also be provided by the employers.

Will the qualification lead to employment, and if so, in which job role and at what level?

You will gain knowledge and skills required to become a professional chef. You might be working as a Sous Chef or Chef de Partie in one of these workplaces:

- restaurants
- hotels
- hospitality events
- cruise liners
- private household events

You can progress into employment and undertake an apprenticeship, or continue in further education achieving one of the following industry related qualifications.

- Level 4 Diploma in Hospitality Management Skills
- Level 4 Diploma in Principles of Hospitality Management

Why choose this qualification over other similar qualifications?

City & Guilds offers three technical level qualifications in the hospitality and catering sector.

You are more likely to choose this qualification if you feel you want an all round experience of learning how a kitchen operates whether on the pastry side or the kitchen & larder side. You will have the opportunity to learn in more detail through practical activities and knowledge higher level of skills in these areas. By undertaking this qualification you will then have the required all round knowledge to enter employment whether on the pastry side or the production side and be an all round valuable member of the team.

City & Guilds also offers the Level 3 Diploma in Professional Patisserie and Confectionery which is designed for young people wanting to specialise as a pastry chef using advanced skills and techniques or the Level 3 Diploma in Advanced Professional Cookery (Kitchen and Larder) if you want to focus on the main areas of a production kitchen but not the pastry side.

Who supports this qualification?

This qualification is supported by the Craft Guild of Chefs.
