

Unit 303: Contribute to business success

Activity 24: On-job training

Thinking about working in a professional kitchen, list six examples of on-job training activities that could be delivered.

For each task outline the techniques to be used to ensure the member of the team gains the skills and knowledge required to complete the task independently and to the required standard.

Role play one of the activities with a peer to see how successful your instructions are.