

City & Guilds Level 3 Diploma in Dog Grooming – plans for the new qualification

We are redeveloping the 7763-03 Level 3 Certificate in Introductory Dog Grooming and Level 3 Diploma for Professional Dog Stylists. The main driver for this redevelopment is the change in framework requirements (currently regulated on the Framework and needs to be put onto the NQF), to make the qualification eligible for funding and on Section 96.

This means that that units and assessment methodology is changing. Going forward, there will only be one qualification. Level 3 Diploma in Dog Grooming which will be graded overall pass, merit, distinction and distinction*. It will be synoptically assessed at the end of the qualification and have two assessments:

- 1 x externally set, externally marked assessment – knowledge test
- 1 x externally set, internally marked assessment – practical skills and oral questioning as appropriate – this will be quality assured.

All of the units in the qualification will be mandatory. Learners will be required cover all dog breeds including cross breeds. This is to keep up with industry and to prepare them for what would actually happen in a commercial dog groomers environment. The current qualification only covers 12 named breeds, which is outdated. However, the guidance that has been developed for the current 7763-03 will still be incorporated into the new qualification but teaching should be around head, body, tail and feet/ leg shapes so that candidates can then be prepared for any dog breed that they come across in a commercial salon eg labradoodle.

We are planning to have the new qualification available for registration in Autumn 2015. The current 7763-03 will still be available for any learners waiting to complete their assessments

Below is an outline of the new unit content. Please note that all repetition will be reviewed and removed as appropriate – in the current qualification there is a lot of repetition of learning outcomes across units.
