This is a new knowledge-based qualification for learners completing the Advanced Apprenticeship Framework in Environmental Conservation.

This qualification meets the needs of learners in a work-based environment who may wish to work within the countryside management industry or progress to further learning and/or training. This qualification has been developed as a result of a specific request from Lantra SSC to use an existing unit to cover knowledge for the Advanced Apprenticeship Framework for Environmental Conservation. It is a single unit, knowledge based qualification aimed at learners taking the Advanced Apprenticeship. These qualifications replace the Level 3 Technical Certificate in Countryside Management (0342-04) which expires on 31 August 2009 (QAN 100/3105/4).

Total Qualification Time

Total Qualification Time (TQT) is the total amount of time, in hours, expected to be spent by a Learner to achieve a qualification. It includes both guided learning hours (which are listed separately) and hours spent in preparation, study and assessment.

1.1 Qualification structure

2 Centre requirements

This section outlines the approval processes for Centres to offer these qualifications and any resources that Centres will need in place to offer the qualifications including qualification-specific requirements for Centre staff.

Centres already offering the NPTC Level 3 Advanced National Certificate in Countryside Management (0342-03), NPTC Level 3 Certificate in Environmental Conservation (0342-04) and NPTC Level 3 Certificate, Subsidiary Diploma, Diploma and Extended Diploma in Centre based Countryside Management (0076-03)

Centres approved to offer the qualifications NPTC Level 3 Advanced National Certificate in Countryside Management (0342-03), NPTC Level 3 Certificate in Environmental Conservation (0342-04) and NPTC Level 3 Certificate, Subsidiary Diploma, Diploma and Extended Diploma in Centre based Countryside Management (0076-03) may use the fast track approval form, available from the City & Guilds NPTC website.

Centres may apply to offer the new qualifications using the fast track form

- providing there have been no changes to the way the qualifications are delivered, and
- if they meet all of the approval criteria specified in the fast track form guidance notes.

Fast track approval is available for 12 months from the launch of the qualification. After this time, the qualification is subject to the standard Qualification Approval Process. It is the centre's responsibility to check that fast track approval is still current at the time of application.

New centres must apply for centre approval (contact Sales and Marketing Team at City & Guilds NPTC) or qualification approval (contact Verification Services at verification@nptc.org.uk).

Existing City & Guilds /City & Guilds NPTC centres that do not offer NPTC Level 3 Advanced National Certificate in Countryside Management (0342-03), NPTC Level 3 Certificate in Environmental Conservation (0342-04) or NPTC Level 3 Certificate, Subsidiary Diploma, Diploma and Extended Diploma in Centre based Countryside Management (0076-03) will need to get specific qualification approval to run these qualifications (contact Verification Services at City & Guilds NPTC).

2.1 Resource requirements

Human resources

Staff delivering these qualifications must be able to demonstrate that they meet the following occupational expertise requirements. They should:

- be technically competent in the area for which they are delivering training and/or have experience of providing training. This knowledge must be at least to the same level as the training being delivered
- have recent relevant experience in the specific area they will be assessing
- be occupationally knowledgeable in the areas of countryside management for which they are delivering training. This knowledge must be at least to the same level as the training being delivered
- have credible experience of providing training.

Centre staff may undertake more than one role, eg tutor and assessor or internal verifier, but must never internally verify their own assessments.

Assessors and internal verifiers

While the Assessor/Verifier (A/V) units are valued as qualifications for centre staff, they are not currently required for the qualifications.

Internal verifiers/qualification coordinators must be occupationally knowledgeable in the area of business in the environmental and land-based sector, either qualified to at least Level 3 in business in the environmental and land-based sector or have significant and current experience of working in the industry at a supervisory level. They should have had formal training in assessment, which may be of A1, D32/33 or other training that allows the assessor to demonstrate competence in the practice of assessment. This training may be carried out in-house or with an external agency. It would be envisaged that the training would encompass, but not be limited to:

- Assessment planning
- Methods of assessment
- Feedback
- Recording of evidence

Internal verifiers/qualification coordinators must be occupationally competent or qualified to at least level 4 in countryside management or have sufficient and current experience of working in the industry, or a related industry, at this level. They should have had formal training in assessment, as above, and have experience of internal verification of NVQs, or training in the quality assurance systems required by the awarding body.

Continuing professional development (CPD)

Centres are expected to support their staff in ensuring that their knowledge remains current of the occupational area and of best practice in delivery, mentoring, training, assessment and verification, and that it takes account of any national or legislative developments.

2.2 Learner entry requirements

There are no formal entry requirements for learners undertaking these qualifications. However, centres must ensure that learners have the potential and opportunity to gain the qualifications successfully.

Age restrictions

These qualifications have been approved/accredited for 16-18, 18+ and 19+ learners. However, there are no age limits attached to learners undertaking the qualification unless this is a legal requirement of the process or the environment.

3 Course design and delivery

3.1 Initial assessment and induction

Centres will need to make an initial assessment of each learner prior to the start of their programme to ensure they are entered for an appropriate type and level of qualification.

The initial assessment should identify:

- any specific training needs the learner has, and the support and guidance they may require when working towards their qualifications. This is sometimes referred to as diagnostic testing.
- any units the learner has already completed, or credit they have accumulated which is relevant to the qualification they are about to begin.

City & Guilds NPTC recommends that centres provide an induction programme to ensure the learner fully understands the requirements of the qualifications they will work towards, their responsibilities as a learner, and the responsibilities of the centre. It may be helpful to record the information on a learning contract.

3.2 Recommended delivery strategies

Centre staff should familiarise themselves with the structure, content and assessment requirements of the qualifications before designing a course programme.

Centres may design course programmes of study in any way which:

- best meets the needs and capabilities of their learners
- satisfies the requirements of the qualifications.

When designing and delivering the course programme, centres might wish to incorporate other teaching and learning that is not assessed as part of the qualifications. This might include the following:

- Functional skills
- Personal learning and thinking (PLTS)

Where applicable, this could involve enabling the learner to access relevant qualifications covering these skills.

4 Assessment

4.1 Summary of assessment methods

For these qualifications, learners will be required to complete the following assessments:

- one assignment for one unit

City & Guilds NPTC provides the following assessments:

- An assignment guide containing the assignment for the unit

Time constraints

The following time constraints must be applied to the assessment of these qualifications:

- The assignment must be completed and assessed within the learner's period of registration. Centres should advise learners of any internal timescales for the completion and marking of individual assignments.

4.2 Assignments

The assignment guide for this qualification is available to from www.nptc.org.uk.

4.3 Recognition of prior learning (RPL)

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) recognises the contribution a person's previous experience could contribute to a qualification. RPL is allowed and is also sector specific.

4.4 Resubmission of Assignments

Where a learner has failed an assignment they may resubmit their work once in order to try and achieve a Pass grade. Merit and Distinction grades may not be awarded to any resubmitted work.

6 Registration and Certification

Tutors and Examination Officers should ensure that learners are registered onto 0070-35 and that all 0070-35 documentation for teaching and administration with City & Guilds NPTC is used.

When learners' results are submitted to City & Guilds, centres should also submit the relevant certification/grading module so that the appropriate certificate is generated.

Please note: There are three certification/grading modules for the qualification which differentiates the three grades – pass, merit and distinction. Once the overall grade for the assignment has been calculated, the correct certification/grading module needs to be indicated on the results entry.

For example, if a learner achieves the NPTC Level 3 Award in Business Management for the Environment and Land-based Sector at an overall merit grade, then the certification module 904 needs to be submitted. Please see the Rules of Combination below or the City & Guilds catalogue.

Unit 501 Business Management in the Land-based Sector

Notes for guidance

This unit is designed to provide the learner with an understanding of the business aspects of their industry. It is applicable to all sectors of the environment and land-based sector and learners focus their study on the sector most relevant to their vocational interests.

In Outcome 1 they will investigate the size, scope and importance of their specialist sector within the environment and land-based industries, and how this has developed over the last 50 years or so. For some sectors this type of information is more readily available than other (e.g. agriculture), so learners should be supported in accessing whatever information is available relevant to their sector. They will also investigate the range of business types and other organisations that are represented in their sector, including important regulatory, professional or representative organisations. Wherever possible this should be related to specific businesses and organisations. This outcome is likely to require formal teaching, which should be supported by relevant information on businesses and organisations within the sector, and could include speakers representing these. Independent study and investigation should also be encouraged.

Outcome 2 focuses on the legal and resource implications of constituting a business. They will learn about the range of business organisations in the private and public sectors, and the legal and practical implications of different business types. This should be related to the types of business important in their sector. Learners will investigate the physical resource requirements of businesses, and how they are managed. It would be appropriate for learners to undertake a case study on a business premises in their sector and appraise its strengths and weaknesses for a given business use. The understanding that learners will gain on job roles and responsibilities has links with the requirements for Work Experience, and employers could be invited to explain their expectations in the workplace. The learners' investigations should focus on job roles within their specialist sector.

In Outcome 3 learners will analyse the market for a specific land-based business. This could involve a case study project and should identify, for that business, information on the content listed. External influences should be relevant and current to that business. Specific competitors should be identified and analysed to identify strengths and weaknesses to the case study business. When investigating the supply chain learners will need to identify the flow of resources from production of raw materials, through relevant manufacture and processing, to end consumers. Quality management will include reference to any formal standards or approvals that are relevant. It should also consider the quality standards required by the industry, any systems and practices that are used to achieve quality, and implications of failing to meet prescribed or assumed levels of quality. This should be related to specific businesses and teaching could again be supported by relevant visiting speakers from industry.

Outcome 4 focuses on the range of financial and physical records that are required to meet legal requirements as well as to ensure effective business operation. Learners will need to be able to complete simple examples of the range of financial records listed. They should be aware of paper-based and computerised systems for financial records but are not expected to become competent in the use of IT accounts software. The range of physical records investigated should be related to the needs of the learners' specialist sector, and should include important current examples of legally required records. This content could link with other specialist vocational units. In addition to completing a range of records, learners will investigate how specific examples can be used to aid decision making, monitor and control business performance.

Centres are encouraged to introduce employers and specific professionals from industry to provide interesting and relevant information to the learner. Teaching would also benefit from visits to a variety of establishments to add depth to the learner experience.

It is accepted that formal lectures will be necessary at level 3 but for this unit it is recommended that they are they are linked directly with interactive lessons in a real environment.
