Level 3 Diploma for Proficiency in Meat and Poultry Industry Skills (600/4072/5)

OVERVIEW

What does this qualification cover?

This qualification moves on from the Level 3 Certificate for proficiency in meat and poultry industry skills (600/4043/9) qualification by covering even more advanced practical skills and knowledge associated with continuous improvement and monitoring processes in meat and poultry processing and production roles within the meat and poultry industry. There is also an added emphasis on business concepts associated with monitoring production line and sales/after sales services in order to maximise profits.

There is a large volume of units within this qualification covering every aspect of the meat and poultry industry from receiving of livestock, through to killing of livestock and then onto the processes involved in processing carcasses right through to the final sales of meat and poultry. You will learn about advanced meat and poultry processing and continuous improvement techniques in this qualification.

You will take a mixture of mandatory and optional units depending on your role within the food manufacturing process

This is a Framework qualification.

Who could take this qualification?

This qualification is suitable if you wish to pursue a career in the meat and poultry industry either in a meat processing, butchery or sales/service role. Ideally you should already have completed the Level 2 Certificate for proficiency in meat and poultry industry skills (501/1756/7) or have an understanding of basic meat and poultry industry operations.

This qualification is suitable if you are aged 16 years old or over.
