RECOGNITION LIST

International Awards in Spectators Safety (6850)

City & Guilds is one of the world's leading vocational education businesses, with over 130 years of experience in designing qualifications and skills development solutions for governments and industries.

Since 1878, millions of learners have used our qualifications to enhance their skills and today millions more are studying to achieve a City & Guilds certificate to realise their potential.

We operate in over 80 countries and have developed a dedicated international portfolio which covers a wide range of subject areas, including spectator safety.

Our qualifications offer great progression opportunities and are widely accepted by employers around the world as the benchmark for workplace excellence.

Organisations featured in this document are a selection of the prestigious institutions, corporates and industry bodies that recognise the following International Awards in Spectator Safety:

- International Award in Spectator Safety
- International Award in Supervising Spectator Safety.

INDUSTRY RECOGNITION

Football Safety Officers Association (FSOA)

www.fsoa.org.uk

'The FSOA has endorsed the City & Guilds International Awards in Spectator Safety as they support the Association's aims and objectives of improving safety at sports grounds, promulgating best practice, and enhancing the role of stewards.'

The Association believes these awards will help to fill a huge gap in the training and up-skilling of stewards around the world and would recommend them as suitable preparation for any national and international football and other sporting events.

City & Guilds has already established a strong reputation in the area of spectator safety in the UK and is very well placed to offer its assessment expertise in other parts of the world.'

Founded in 1992, the FSOA represents football clubs from all leagues in England and Wales by safety officers, their deputies and stadium managers. The Association aims to improve safety at football grounds, promulgate best practice and enhance the role of safety management at all sporting venues and the status of the safety officer within the football industry.

The FSOA has over 200 members mainly made up by Safety Officers, Stadium Managers and Operations Managers at their sports venues. It provides members with a forum over and above the national and regional conferences, for exchanging ideas and information regarding safety and management of football grounds.

All English and Welsh professional football clubs are represented, with representatives of the football authorities, local authorities, stewarding companies, major Scottish and Irish football clubs, rugby union and league clubs, English cricket, racecourses and consultants and academics.

The FSOA engages over 6000 persons and its members include Arsenal, Chelsea, Liverpool, Manchester United, Tottenham Hotspur and the Football Association (FA).

EUROPASS

Europass Certificate Supplement

Both levels of the International Awards in Spectator Safety (6850) are supported by a Europass Certificate Supplement.

The Certificate Supplement helps to ensure that qualifications are easily understood across national systems and makes it easier for learners to find employment or training opportunities beyond the borders of their own country.

It provides details on the skills that candidates are required to demonstrate in order to achieve a City & Guilds certificate, helps learners to prepare for job interviews and allows employers to choose the best candidate to work for their organisation.

City & Guilds was the first UK awarding body to launch the Europass Certificate Supplement and still the only one offering it across its qualification portfolio.
