What makes up a Modern Apprenticeship?

Modern Apprenticeships combine vocational learning with practical, on-the-job experience and training. They enable apprentices to develop their skills through industry-recognised qualifications, whilst getting paid. Most Modern Apprenticeship programmes take between 18 and 24 months depending on the industry sector and ability of the apprentice.

Automotive Modern Apprenticeships consist of the following main elements:

- SVQ or competency-based component.
- Knowledge-based or Technical Certificate component (VRQ).
- Core Skills.

What levels are the Automotive Modern Apprenticeship Frameworks available at?

Levels 2 and 3.

Where can I access the documents describing the qualifications and requirements of all apprenticeship frameworks in any sector?

At the SSC's website:

<http://www.motor.org.uk/standards-and-qualifications/apprenticeship-frameworks-scotland.html>

What Automotive Modern Apprenticeship Frameworks are City & Guilds offering and where can I access them?

We offer the following Automotive Modern Apprenticeship Frameworks at levels 2 and 3:

- Vehicle Maintenance and Repair: Light Vehicle and Heavy Vehicle
- Vehicle Body and Paint: Vehicle Body Repair and Vehicle Paintwork Repair

How can I gain approval for the apprenticeship packages?

Please fill in the fast track form available from <http://www.cityandguilds.com/apprenticeships>

I want to deliver Automotive Apprenticeships. How do I register the candidates?

The best way is to register them under one of the automotive packages (9422) as this registration will give you access to all the qualifications which are part of that apprenticeship framework and would also be more economical than making a registration for each of the qualifications individually.

How do I claim results for transferable units?

To claim transferable results, you submit them through the Walled Garden. In the case of online tests, you need to submit the results with a Pass by using the proxy components through the Walled Garden (they are called 'credit transfer for ...' and the title of the unit), not the online test number.

What is the million-extra campaign?
