The City & Guilds Insurance Practitioner apprenticeship

The Insurance Practitioner apprenticeship is an entry-level role into the industry. Duties that this role could be asked to perform in line with the employer’s needs are providing support in the acquisition of new clients, providing support in retaining existing clients through the renewal process, handling client queries on products, services and accounting, processing and analysing data to support business objectives, preparing documentation, reports and market research, general office administration, participating in meetings, maintaining internal and external relationships and complying with regulatory requirements.

The apprentice journey

1. On-programme: What is required in the Assessment Plan?

We do not intend to deliver on-programme.

How our offer supports on-programme delivery

Qualification

We don’t intend to deliver on-programme, but the supporting qualification for the apprenticeship is either the Certificate in Insurance (Cert CII) or the Certificate in Claims Handling (Cert CILA). There are different routes to achieve the credits needed for these qualifications, the route selected will depend on the individual business but must include the mandatory modules as specified by the awarding body.

Learning Assistant

Learning Assistant is an innovative and cost effective e-portfolio solution that allows colleges and training providers to improve dramatically the delivery of their vocational qualifications by tracking progress online in real time.

Guidance documents

End-point assessment guidance documentation. The guidance document will give information on end-point assessment methods, preparation and other information to support the apprentice, employer and training provider.

Maths and English are required (level varies according to the standard).

If your apprentices need to complete maths and English, our popular Functional Skills qualifications fit within apprenticeship programmes and cover the core maths and English requirement for the workplace and further study. We have an extensive support package available, including e-Functional Skills, and an online teaching and learning platform, which guides learners from an initial and a diagnostic assessment, through to being exam ready.

2. Gateway
The line manager and training provider will review the apprentice’s progress. They will agree whether the apprentice has achieved the competency levels required against all learning outcomes and authorise the apprentice to start their end-point assessment, or they will suggest a remedial plan if required.

3. End-point assessment
City & Guilds is an approved assessment organisation on the Register of Apprentice Assessment Organisations (RoAAO) for this apprenticeship standard. We are able to arrange assessments at a time that is convenient for the apprentice and employer and will provide an end-point assessment handbook for the centre, with guidance on preparing apprentices and how to register.

End-point assessment methods

Reflective discussion
The reflective discussion will take the form of a structured interview with the training provider to explore the content of the portfolio and the learner journey in more detail.

The purpose of the discussion is to:

- clarify any questions about the evidence presented in the portfolio;
- evidence any aspects of the standard that are not already evidenced in the portfolio through discussion of how the apprentice performs their role;
- discuss how the apprentice has progressed in their role, what they have done and their approach to their work.

The discussion will be recorded and uploaded to the City & Guilds EPA portal, along with the portfolio of work, for final assessment by City & Guilds.

Portfolio of work
The apprentice will compile a portfolio of work during the end-point assessment stage. This could be from a range of evidence. The most appropriate types will be identified through discussion with the employer, training provider and apprentice, taking into account the job role and internal systems and processes. A minimum of three different types of evidence within this portfolio are needed to demonstrate competence and authenticate the assessment. Examples could be written work or case studies, internal compliance audits, project work done in the role, formal performance review, appraisal or CPD log.

4. Apprenticeship certification
As well as receiving their ESFA apprenticeship certification, the apprentice will receive a City & Guilds statement of achievement for end-point assessment.
